

ABSTARCT

Indium nitride film has been deposited using dense plasma focus for various shots. The samples have been characterized using, scanning electron microscope, FTIR spectrometer and X-ray diffraction. The results indicate that the crystalline quality decreases with increasing focus shots, nano-ribbons are appeared with increasing focus shots and In-N molecular band is appeared in the sample treated with 2 Focus shots.