

Abstract

This is a study based on both descriptive and analytic components. It was conducted to determine the most significant factors, which may be the root cause of father's concerns on the basis of Gender. The study is based on father's response about different aspects of their children's life. The study is carried out in Anarkali Bazar Lahore. A questionnaire was designed to record the responses of 170 male parents. The questionnaire covered education, health and numerous social aspects of children's life. Two stage probability sampling technique is used to draw the sample.